Executive Summary

My name is Marko, and I'm a passionate and educated Full Stack Developer with a strong focus on frontend development. I code daily and have extensive experience in JavaScript, React, Django, Next.js, databases, HTML/CSS, REST APIs, Node.js, AI/ML and with AWS. I'm committed to creating user-friendly interfaces and well-documented, clean frontends and backends, all built with modern coding principles. My strengths include attention to detail, strong analytical skills, and quick problem-solving.

With over 9 years of experience, including three years as a team leader, I thrive in both independent and team settings. I'm eager to learn, grow, and bring my skills to a new, collaborative environment. I'm now looking forward to my next role as a full stack developer.
